Forecast For Highland & Eilean Siar
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Tuesday 02 Feb 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Snow showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Speyside will be mostly cloudy with snow showers, perhaps merging into the odd longer spell of snow. Elsewhere, drier with a scattering of snow showers and some clear spells. Chilly easterly winds. Minimum temperature -3 deg C (27 deg F).

Wednesday:
Brightest in the north with a scattering of snow showers. Cloudier from Inverness southwards with snow showers, although Speyside could see some longer outbreaks of snow. Cold easterly winds. Maximum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Snow showers or longer spells of snow, with significant snowfall for some. The driest and clearest conditions will be over the Western Isles and around the west coast. Cold winds.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.